FOUR-DAY RESPITE IN ANTI-JEWISH BOYCOTT

TROUBLE FEARED TO-NIGHT

REALISATION OF THE CONSEQUENCES

DR. GOEBBELS' THREAT

Berlin, April 1.

It is announced that the anti-Jewish boycott will begin at ten o'clock this morning, but will be called off this evening until April 4.

In announcing the decision, Dr. Goebbels, the Minister of Propaganda, explained that there has been a noticeable decline of the anti-Jewish campaign abroad, and that he proved the success of the boycott threat.

Goebbels also declared that the improved situation proved that anti-Jewry has absolute power to stop the campaign.

The boycott will be resumed at ten o'clock on April 5 unless the anti-Jewish campaign ceases before then.

If the boycott has to be called off on April 5, it will be resumed in a manner calculated to destroy German Jewry, declared Herr Goebbels in a broadcast broadcast last night.

"We want," he said, "to live in peace with the world. We want to work. We do not want to make life unnecessarily difficult."

ECONOMIC DISLOCATION.

The suspension of the boycott is regarded by disinterested circles in Berlin as a recognition of the undesirable economic dislocation which would inevitably result from the strict exercise of the boycott, and this viewpoint has been shared by Nazi members of the cabinet.

Many people consider that the whole campaign has not been so much an act of defiance against the "foreign city" campaign as an attempt to appease the Nazi extremists, who have been in the forefront of anti-Semitism for years.

It is very much doubted, however, whether the policy of appeasement will prove successful.

TROUBLE FEARED.

Disinterested circles feel that once the boycott has started, the Nazis will not be able to hold back the followers in check and trouble will be the result.

Dr. Goebbels' broadcast advertisement last night has not allayed this anxiety.

In the meantime, preparations for the boycott are well in hand and it is feared that foreigners shall see the seriousness of the position, and in ungrammatical English, "Germans defend yourselves against the Jewish atrocity propaganda" will be posted.

IMPORTANT SEIZURE

RED PROPAGANDA FACTORY RAID

SHANGHAI POLICE DISCOVERY

(Special to "Telegraph")

(Telegraph, Copyright, Telegraphic Messages Ordinance, 1924. Received, April 1, 8.10 a.m.)

Shanghai, April 1. A remarkable seizure has been made by the Special Branch of the Municipal Police as the result of a surprise raid on a Chinese building in the International Settlement.

Special efforts have been made by the secret service branch latterly to unearth secret stores of Communist records and the raid has brought these efforts to a successful conclusion.

Vast quantities of subversive documents were found.

INVISIBLE INK.

All the writings were carried out in invisible ink, but the application of a process which the police had in readiness revealed in full detail what appears to be the complete archives of the National Labour Federation and the Chinese Communist Party's central organisation.

The discoveries included a number of lengths of striped cotton cloth such as is used for shirting, which, after being subjected to chemical treatment, were revealed to contain manuscripts, Communist circulars, notifications, handbills, books etc.

OVER 1,500,000 CHARACTERS.

A conservative estimate of the number of Chinese characters appearing on each linear foot of cloth is approximately 3,750.

Therefore, it is believed that the forty-three lengths of cloth confiscated show a grand total of no fewer than 1,612,000 characters.—Reuter.

MR. MATSUOKA IN WASHINGTON

PRESENTED TO THE PRESIDENT

(Special to "Telegraph")

(Telegraph, Copyright, Telegraphic Messages Ordinance, 1924. Received, April 1, 8.10 a.m.)

Washington, Mar. 31. Mr. Matsuoka was received today by President Roosevelt to whom he was presented by the Japanese Ambassador, Mr. Dehuchi.

The Japanese delegate also visited the State Department where he met Mr. Cordell Hull.—Reuter.

CONVERSION LOAN

POPULAR ISSUE IN DEMAND

London, Mar. 31.

Tenders for £45,000,000 2½ per cent. Conversion Loan 1944-49 and Treasury bills were opened today.

The total amount applied for exceeded £79,000,000. The amount of Conversion Loan allotted was £9,165,000, applicants at 294½ and above receiving their requirements in full.—British Wireless.

THREAT TO NAVAL TREATIES

FEAR AROUSED BY JAPAN'S LEAGUE
WITHDRAWAL

"SEPARATE" NAVY FOR MANCHUKUO?

(By Telegraph, Copyright, Telegraphic Messages Ordinance, 1924. Received, April 1, 1.40 a.m.)

LONDON, MARCH 31. THE EFFECT OF JAPAN'S WITHDRAWAL FROM THE LEAGUE ON THE QUESTION OF ARMAMENTS FOR MANCHUKUO IS EXERCISING THE MINDS OF THE NAVY DEPARTMENTS BOTH IN LONDON AND WASHINGTON.

Will Japan make use of Manchukuo to build her navy beyond treaty limits? Will she make naval and military demands on behalf of Manchukuo at the Disarmament Conference? These are among the questions being asked.

It is pointed out that the appointment of a naval command at Changchun is of considerable significance and that if Japan establishes a "separate" navy for Manchukuo, the spirit of the Washington and London Treaties will be destroyed.

REVIEWS OF THE SITUATION

Considerable attention is paid to this question in the well-known reviews.

The Spectator says plainly that if Manchukuo is an independent State as Japan claims and insists, despite the refusal of the rest of the world to recognise the regime, it is entitled to equip itself with an army—and what is more pertinent in view of the existing Naval Treaties—with a Navy.

SERIOUS SITUATION.

If Japan proceeds to endow its protégé with ships of war outside the limits set her by the London Naval Treaty, a very serious situation will arise.

The New Statesman, dealing with the same issue, says that it is to be expected that Japan will, at the Disarmament Conference, demand increased armament both for herself and for Manchukuo.

ISOLATION IRKSOME.

The Week-end Review expects Japan to find her voluntary isolation irksome.

WORLD PARLEY TALKS

BEING CONTINUED IN LONDON

London, Mar. 31.

The conversations between Mr. Norman Davis, chief United States delegate to the Disarmament Conference, and the Prime Minister and Foreign Secretary, were continued this afternoon.

A further discussion on matters to be considered at the World Economic Conference may take place before Mr. Davis leaves for Paris next week.

The date of the Conference rests on the League Organising Committee, of which Sir John Simon is chairman, and a meeting of which has not yet been summoned.—British Wireless.

FATAL MOTOR ACCIDENT

LAD DIES ON WAY TO HOSPITAL

A Sanitary Department motor van was involved in a fatal accident on the Praya near the Tai Hing Wharf yesterday afternoon, when a boy was killed.

Tseng So, the driver of the van, has reported to the police that while proceeding along Connaught Road Central in a westerly direction, a boy, Lan Ki, aged 11, suddenly ran across the thoroughfare near the Tai Hing Wharf, and was knocked down by the right front mudguard. The lad received serious injuries to the head and legs, and died in the ambulance on the way to hospital.

High above the clouds, the peak of Mount Everest is shown in this picture. An attempt to fly over the mountain will be made now at any moment by the Houston Expedition.

BRITAIN'S BUDGET

DEFICIT RESULT OF DEBT PAYMENT

SOUND POSITION REVEALED

London, Mar. 31.

A remarkably sound budgetary position is revealed by the publication tonight of the year's revenue and expenditure statistics, the total deficit of £32,279,000 including the unanticipated payment of the American debt instalment.

Skillful conversion operations saved the country £30,000,000 in interest payments.

The financial year ended to-day and the returns issued by the Treasury show that revenue has amounted to £744,791,000.

Excluding the payment to the United States Government, expenditure amounted to £748,114,000.

A deficit of £3,323,000 is reached after providing £17½ millions for sinking fund.

The payment to the United States was £28,956,000, making a total deficit of £32,279,000.

NO DEBT INCOME.

As against the payment to the United States there would normally have been received, since last July, £30½ millions from allied war debts to Britain and from reparations and a further £7½ millions from Dominion war debts, the relief of debts, etcetera making £37½ millions in all at current rates of exchange.

Reparation and war debt payments, however, are, under arrangements made at Lausanne, suspended until the Lausanne agreement has been ratified or until a decision has been reached not to ratify that agreement. If all the payments normally due to this country since July 1932 had been received in full, the budget would have been balanced with a surplus of £5½ millions.

The budget which made no provision for receipts or outgoings for reparations and war debts, £766,800,000 and a total expenditure, including a provision for the sinking fund of £32½ millions of £746,000,000.

INCOME TAX DOWN.

Income tax and surtax yielded £312,200,000 which is £13½ millions less than estimated. Estates duties yielded £66 millions, which was one million more than the estimate. Customs and excise yielded £283 millions against an estimate of £290 millions. Sundry loans and miscellaneous provided a surplus over the estimate of £6½ millions.

On the expenditure side the fixed debt charges were fixed for the year at £276 millions for interest and management of the debt and £2½ millions for the sinking fund.

The payment to the United States is shown in the return as separate and single item within the year's budget expenditure.

This is done to mark its special character, for in making the payment the Government reserved the right to treat the whole sum as a

THAT FOUR-POWER PLAN TEXT

EXPLANATION GIVEN IN LONDON

London, Mar. 31. It is authoritatively stated that the text now published in some newspapers of the so-called Four-Power Plan represents the first tentative draft produced for discussion signed by Mussolini at the Rome meeting with Mr. Ramsay MacDonald and Sir John Simon.

It does not fully correspond with the text which the British Ministers took to Paris and discussed subsequently with the French Ministers.

As the project is still under active discussion and examination in the respective capitals, it cannot at present be said to exist in any definitive form.—British Wireless.

AIR CRASH TRAGEDY

DEATH OF MR. R. J. STEVENS

PASSENGER BADLY INJURED

In connexion with the fatal crash of Mr. R. J. Stevens, test pilot of the Far East Aviation Co., at Luchow on Thursday, it now transpires that a Chinese passenger who was also in the plane was seriously injured.

No detailed account of the mishap has yet been received by the Company, beyond the statement that the crash occurred when the machine which Mr. Stevens was piloting was preparing to land. It is thought possible that the machine nose-dived.

Mr. A. V. Harvey, the local Manager of the Company, was to have flown to Luchow this morning to investigate the accident, but in consequence of bad weather reports from Wuchow, the trip has been postponed. If conditions improve, the flight will be made to-morrow.

capital payment of which account should be taken in any final settlement.

INTEREST AND SINKING FUND.

Excluding the payment to the United States Government, payments from the fixed debt charge for interest etcetera, have amounted to £262½ millions and for the sinking fund to £17½ millions.

An additional sum of £2,655,000 representing interest on savings certificates has been met from borrowed moneys.

The reduction in the sinking fund payments below the amount anticipated in the budget is due to the effect of the rise in price of gilt-edged securities, following the war loan conversion operation, on statutory and contractual sinking fund requirements.

The Budget estimate for the supply was £447,204,000. Since then supplementary estimates have been presented amounting to £21,814,000.

ANOTHER GRAVE AIR CRASH

THIRTEEN KILLED AND INJURED

CANADIAN M.P. BADLY HURT

(Special to "Telegraph")

(Telegraph, Copyright, Telegraphic Messages Ordinance, 1924. Received, April 1, 9.10 a.m.)

New York, Mar. 31.

The famous Winnipeg basketball team, who recently won the amateur championship of Canada and have been touring the United States, were victims of a fatal aeroplane crash near Kansas City to-day.

Thirteen of the fourteen persons in the machine were either killed or injured. It is not yet known how many of them are among those fatally hurt.

The basketball team, known as "The Tollers," were returning home after participating in the United States National Championship.

The injured include Colonel Sampson, member of the Canadian House of Commons, who had several bones broken.

Four of the thirteen victims are known to be dead.—Reuter.

VILLAGE HUTS DESTROYED

FIRE BREAKS OUT ON MAINLAND

Three huts in Ngai Tsai Wai village, in the Kowloon City district, were destroyed by fire which broke out shortly before 5.30 this morning. On receipt of a call the Kowloon Fire Brigade attended. Damage to the extent of £370 was caused by the fire, which is believed to have originated in one of the huts through an inmate lighting an oil lamp which ignited a mosquito net. Fortunately, the inmates of the huts escaped.

A small fire broke out on the first floor of 61, Catchick Street, which is used as a store room by the Commercial Printing Press. A quantity of oil covering paper, used for printing purposes, was damaged. The flames were extinguished by the employees. The fire occurred shortly after 2 a.m.

Mr. William Russell, late Government Marine Surveyor, and his daughter, Miss Mona Russell, left for Sydney to-day by the s.s. Nankin.

000. Actual expenditure amounted to £468½ millions representing a saving of £10½ millions.

FLOATING DEBT.

Floating debt stands at £310,455,000 compared with £311,955,000 year ago and is made up of Treasury bills £775,905,000 and ways and means borrowing from the public departments of £34,550,000.—British Wireless and Reuter.

OF WOMEN

DEVELOP CHARM.

Mme. Rubenstein Gives Formula.

New York.—Must a woman be beautiful to be loved?

Are there other qualities she may develop to make up for her lack of beauty?

Or is the American man susceptible to only one quality in women?

Helen Rubinstein, beauty authority who has done more than considerable to increase the pulchritude of women here and Helena Rubenstein.

abroad, gives an encouraging
"No" to the first question.

French Appreciate Worldliness.

"No woman need go unloved because she is not born beautiful," Madame Rubinstein maintains.
"However, the American is more susceptible to beauty or the illusion of beauty and youth than any man in the world. In France, for instance, a recent compilation of 'love statistics' show the Frenchman's appreciation of worldliness
and riper charms in women.

"American men have an entirely different set of evaluations, in regard to what they demand in women. Youth plays a bigger part than anyone dreams and many men confound youth with beauty, when applied to women.

"However, American men like
two things that foreign men seldom consider—sportsmanship and good health. The ability to swim, ride, play golf, tennis or other sports is a real asset here. No matter how petite and lovely a girl may be, here in America, if she is staunch and glowing with health, then and then only is she attractive.

Seek Companionship

"American men are demanding companionship, from women, increasingly. They like their women to know what's in the news,
to take an interest in current harpenings, even to develop artistic and intellectual ability. They are proud of wives that 'do things'.
The equivalent of the husband

wife as the American husband is,
is not found abroad.

"Beauty, here in America, is linked with general good health.
A glowing skin, perfect white hands, lovely hair, pretty teeth, a fine figure create the illusion of perfect beauty to many American men. All of these are things a woman can do something about for herself, if Nature has not endowed her with a face like the one that launched a thousand ships."

Other "Beauties"

"A girl may start out a 100 per cent beauty and be tremendously popular. However, if she is to maintain her reign, she must develop other qualities. I should say that by the time she is 35, she should depend on various qualities in about the following proportion:

55 per cent beauty and youthful appearance
10 per cent sportsmanship and good figure 15 per cent intelligence
10 per cent youthful spirit
10 per cent companionship
"If she is to continue to inter-

she must develop her intellectual

SPOTLIGHT

CHAPTER XLI

Dorothy called gayly, "Look here, Sheila, are you trying to high-hat us? Well, you can't! What was the idea anyhow of sending a message, you couldn't go to lunch with us? Jump in and we'll take you home."

"You don't think I enjoy lunching alone with this dangerous female, do you?" Dick asked reprovingly, with a playful glance at his cousin. "Her appetite is unbelievable!"

Sheila looked at them in dismay. What if Henri should see her? What if one of the other models should report that Sheila had been seen with Miss Trevor again? Yet she could hardly tell Dorothy and Dick that she had been forbidden to accept their invitations.

"Come on, Sheila! We'll take a drive and have dinner later," Dorothy said, beaming. "Dick's knocked off work for the day and that's something to celebrate."

"I'm sorry," Sheila stammered. "I can't. Really, I have to hurry home. They're expecting me."

"Well then," said Dick, "we'll take you there. Dorothy's made up her mind you're coming with us and when Dorothy decides anything it's settled. You might as well come. We seem to be holding up traffic here."

"That doesn't bother me the least bit," retorted Dorothy. "You know that, Dick. I simply want to talk to Sheila. Please, Miss Shayne! If you do, I promise to come back tomorrow and buy six frocks from Henri. I'll tell him I did it because of you, too. That should put you in his good graces."

There was no help for it. Sheila would have to get in the car. "I'll have to go home," she said, glancing swiftly about. There was no one in sight. "If you will drive me there it will be awfully kind."

Seated in the tonneau of the huge car, she breathed more freely. It was ridiculous to make so much ado about a simple thing like this. Surely it should not be forbidden to drive home with a friend when declining might easily bring Henri loss of trade!

"Now isn't this better than the subway or bus?" asked Dorothy ingenuously. "I've only been in the subway once and then it wasn't rush hour. It must be terribly funny to be pushed and shoved about the way the papers say you are."

"Why don't you hire a private subway and try it out?" Dick asked rather acidly. Dorothy had no intention of seeming snobbish but he was afraid Sheila might not understand this.

"You know what I mean," insisted Dorothy. She smiled into Sheila's face as the car turned into the park and headed northward. "Let's get this settled. We lured the girl into this car with a promise of taking her home. Actually nothing is farther from my mind! I want to spend the evening with you, Sheila, if you'll stand for it. If you two don't want to be my guests for dinner how about both of us being Dick's guests?"

"Help!" howled Dick amiably. "I'll feed Sheila any time but once a day is all I can stand with you!"

"Then let's go Dutch at an automat," suggested Sheila.

"Fine!" Dorothy agreed gayly. "The very thing!" She leaned forward to give instructions to the chauffeur.

"Dorothy!" Dick burst out protesting. "Listen, I've an idea. I couldn't do another lick of work today if my life depended on it. Suppose we take Sheila home if she really wants to go there. Then we'll go shopping at the Italian grocer's and I'll make some of my famous spaghetti. We'll throw a party at my apartment. How is that?"

"You wouldn't do it last week when I asked you to, would you?" retorted Dorothy with pretended wrath. "Sheila, I certainly wish I had your influence over him. It's amazing! I, for one, think that's a grand suggestion, though. Will you come?"

Sheila glanced inquiringly in Dick's direction. "You're sure we won't be in the way? You don't want to work?"

"Say, I wouldn't miss the chance to show you what a cook I am for anything! It's my most charming accomplishment."

"Then suppose we turn about. It isn't necessary for me to go home unless you think I should dress." The other two declared she looked quite perfect and presently the car was gliding down Tenth Avenue toward Greenwich Village. They reached a neighborhood of little shops offering real Italian spaghetti, uncooked; an array of cheeses; huge black olives; squash to be cooked in the Italian fashion; and huge pies, tied up fresh, hot and odorless.

"Think of the calories!" exclaimed Sheila, laughing, as Dick seemed bent on further purchases.

"That's something neither of you two need to worry about," he retorted.

Dick's East Side apartment overlooked the river. When they reached the place Sheila decided it suited him perfectly. The furnishings did not seem expensive but there was an air of comfort and quiet good taste.

"It's really just a workshop," Dick explained. The living room in which they stood was large and restful. A few easy chairs stood about and there was a fireplace with simple, graceful lines. A large table, littered with papers, stood near the window, flanked with typewriter, a supply of pointed pencils, and yellow and white paper.

"Richard Stanley Third writes the great American play!" sang out Dorothy in some disdain.

"Richard Stanley Second—to say nothing of Richard Stanley First—would be more gratified if the young man returned to Brooklyn to learn the shoe business."

"She's jealous because she doesn't even know how to spell," Dick said.

"He's jealous himself!" retorted Dorothy. "Amuse yourselves, children, while I try to get this stuff on the table," Dick went on, undisturbed.

Sheila sank into a chair. There was a fine view here of the river. It was getting dark outside. The slow moving ferries gave forth twinkling lights. Other

DOLONOR RISING: ACTIVITY BY MONGOLS LED BY JAPANESE

Peking, Mar. 31.—General Feng Chai-hai, Commander of the Chinese troops at Dolonor, reports that considerable activity is going on among the Mongols north-west of Dolonor.

In his telegram to Peking, General Feng stated that 400 Mongol cavalry, led by Japanese officers, suddenly made their appearance at Chaltenho, 13 miles north-west of Dolonor, and he has sent a detachment to engage them.

General Feng intimates that the situation may become grave.—Router.

boats, laden with cargo, moved slowly up and down. Long Island City, chained to Manhattan by a rope of twinkling lights, lay across the brief stretch of water. Night had softened the grim buildings skirting the water's edge and had given the scene a touch of theatrical glamour.

"Life is like that," Sheila thought wearily. "Glamour hiding ugliness." She was tired from the day's work. Dick's apartment seemed a haven of rest.

The dinner which Dick finally set before them was really excellent. It was served in buffet fashion before the fireplace, Dorothy chatting gayly, flitting about gathering up pepper and salt, diving into the ice box, running hither and thither to wash a fork, to corral a napkin.

"I thought you went to Rome to study," she vouchsafed. "Not to learn cooking. This is the best food you've ever offered me."

"I'm offering this to Sheila. You just happened to be along," Dick teased with fine, ungentlemanly candor.

"If you weren't my cousin I'd be furious!"

"This," said Dick, turning toward Sheila, "has been going on since we were children. Really we are the best of friends, like the same people, the same places and, in general, are the same kind of idiots."

Dorothy rose and took up the telephone. "You may be the same but I'm not," she retorted. She gave a number to the operator.

"Martin's in the neighborhood some where playing pool—though he said it was chess," she explained. Martin was the chauffeur. "I'm going to break up that game and then I'm going to leave you two!"

Merely BRUSH Teeth

You Must Protect Them Against

Germ Acid

THE CAUSE OF DECAY

The toothbrush cannot remove all food particles hidden in the crevices at the Danger Line—where teeth meet gums. They ferment, Germ Acid forms and decay results. Squibb Dental Cream counteracts this acid, however, as it contains Squibb Milk of Magnesia, an effective antacid. Squibb's protects teeth as it cleans them. It is a perfectly safe dentifrice and very economical.

NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE

CRASH REPORTED YESTERDAY

According to Messrs. Swan, Culbertson and Fritz, the New York market was easy yesterday. Business done: 880,000 shares. The Wall Street Journal reports: Stocks crashed from one to five points in the last hour following Missouri Pacific's petition to reorganize under the recently enacted bankruptcy laws. This caused Mo. Pacific Common and Preferred to drop to new lows dragging down all rails, then crumpling the entire list. At the close prices stood somewhat rising above the day's lows. Grains went up due to inflation talk. Brokers' loans were reported at $308,000,000, a decrease of $27,000,000 as compared with the last report on March 3.

A SOUND SCHEME

Motoring Made Easy on Leave

THE VAUXHALL OFFER

Every year, hundreds of overseas residents who visit the British Isles on leave, either purchase or hire a car for the period of their holiday. Many of them take their cars back with them to the country in which they reside ordinarily, but the only "fly in the ointment" is the trouble associated with the "shipping back" of the vehicle.

Several British manufacturers have relieved motorists of this burden by undertaking the job of packing and shipment, and one of the best offers in this respect emanates from the manufacturers of the famous Vauxhall cars.

It is generally known now that the Vauxhall firm have with outstanding success with a special overseas model known as the "Vauxhall Cadet" a car which offers exceptional value and ability, (and here it may be said that a number of owners in this part of the world have had ample time and opportunity to thoroughly test the Cadet) and which may now be purchased for use when on holiday in England, and afterwards sent out to the Colony without the slightest trouble or inconvenience to the owner. There is one small service charge of £6, freight, packing, insurance and other items being free.

Such enterprise reflects great credit on the sponsors of the scheme, and early reports from England this year indicate that the Overseas Department of Vauxhall Motors will be kept extremely busy towards the end of the 1933 Leave Season. A special representative at the Hongkong Hotel Garage will give any information desired.

VAUXHALL HOME LEAVE PLAN.

ENJOY A "MOTORING" LEAVE THIS YEAR

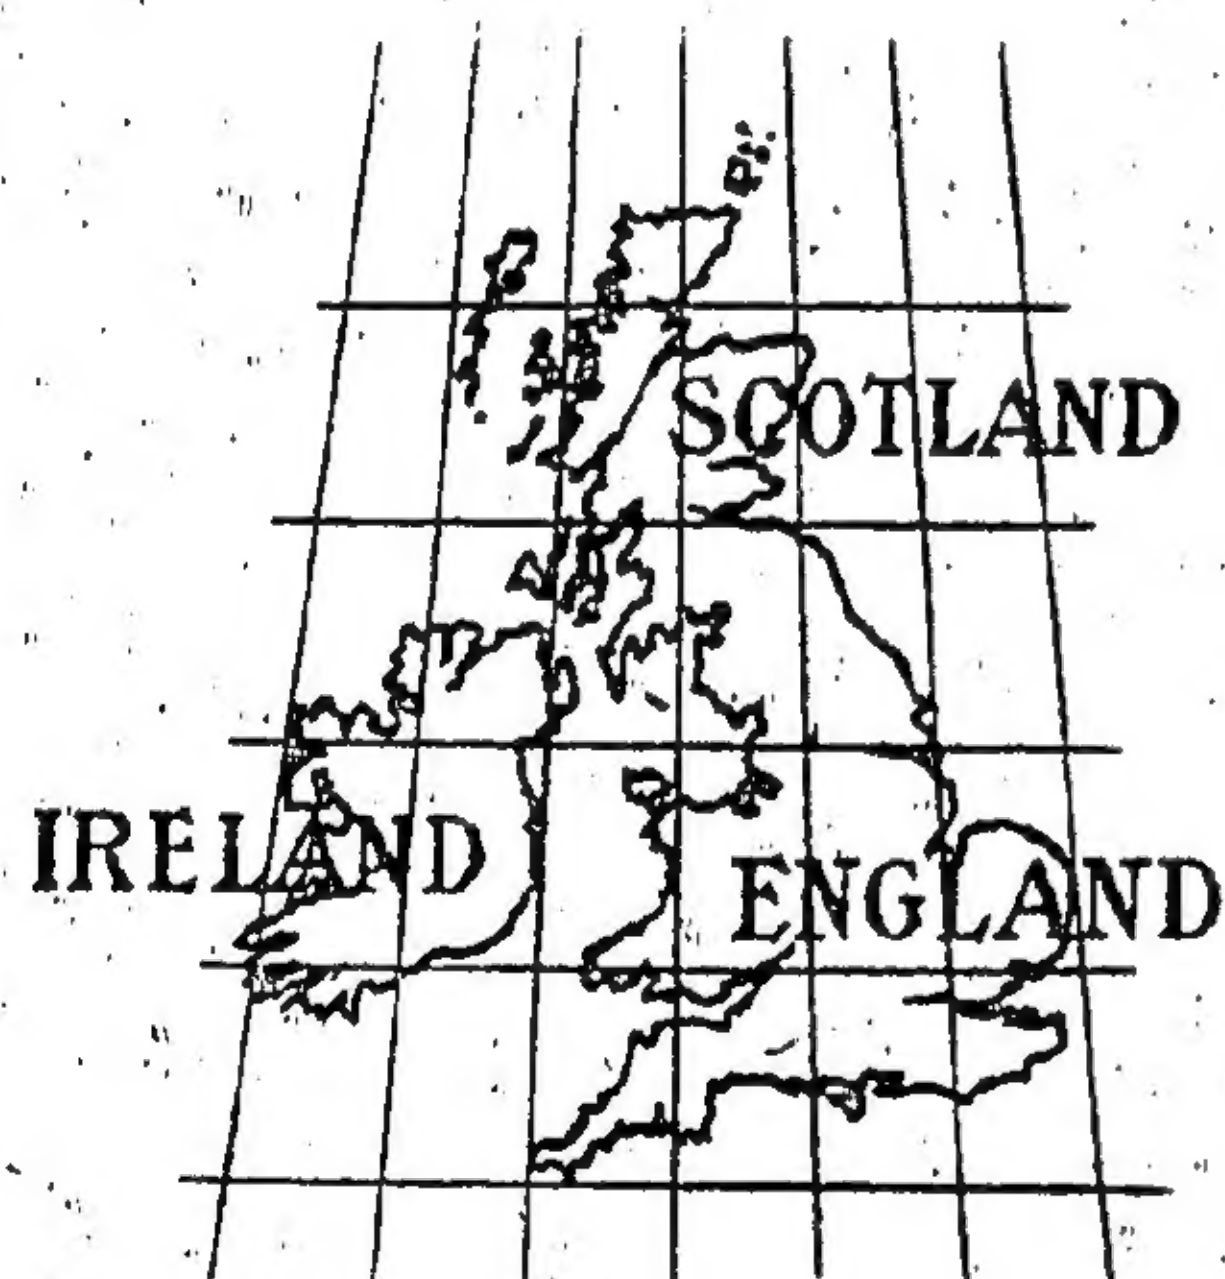

SOME lucky individuals will soon make a visit back home. You too may already be planning your leave. If so, you can make your vacation doubly enjoyable by having a Vauxhall Cadet Model waiting for you on arrival in England.

According to the Vauxhall Home Leave Purchase Plan, you use the car during your home leave and then return it to the Vauxhall depot in London, where it will be packed and shipped out here to you. On arrival here, it will be set up and made ready for delivery to you.

By taking advantage of the Home Leave Purchase Plan, you do not trouble yourself with the worries of shipping or selling your old car before leaving Hong Kong. Naturally, you pay the license and insurance charges for the period of your stay in England.

Compare this plan with the usual way of spoiling part of your home leave by shopping around for the car you want, getting the licenses and insurance, later having it crated and shipped yourself, or perhaps even risking deck-shipment; with the added responsibility of making ready for the road.

Above all, this is an opportunity to arrange right here to buy a first class British car, a car that will do nearly all of its work in top-gear, that has Synchromesh Transmission, and Silent Second Gear, combined with all the traditional beauty and comfort that English design and craftsmanship can give.

Are you going on leave ?

REMEMBER—WE PAY BOXING, SHIPPING AND INSURANCE FROM LONDON TO HONGKONG

You pay for a Vauxhall the English list price plus a £6. 0. 0. service charge which includes both deliveries
free of any further charge, worry or fuss—

AND YOU CAN MAKE ALL YOUR ARRANGEMENTS. HERE BEFORE YOU SAIL

THE BETTER WAY

If the U.S. Government does not make a distinct impression
on the unemployment problem,
it will not be for want of celerity of action on the part of President Roosevelt, whose emergency relief programme is already under way. The new Administration is proceeding along three useful lines—the enrolment of workers for immediate public employment, grants to States for relief work, and the creation of a broad public works programme. Under one branch of these activities, a quarter of a million unemployed will be formed into a Civilian Conservation Corps for the purpose of reafforestation work, being provided with food, clothing, housing and medical attention and be paid three dollars monthly. This will strike most people as a far more sensible plan than the "dole" system, under which the workless are paid for doing nothing. Indeed, the whole basis of the American method is a distinct improvement on the British plan. The Labour Party has been making every effort
for some time past to get the National Government to institute plans of a far-reaching nature for the utilisation of the national resources in land, credit, materials and man-power, so as to increase the total production of wealth in the country, but the Government refuses to be budded from its policy of waiting on international action.
Even in this sphere, no immediate results are expected, if we are to take seriously a recent declaration of Mr. Neville Chamberlain's to the effect that no thoughtful person can think that the maladjustments which have brought about worldwide unemployment are likely to be corrected so rapidly that we can look forward with any confidence to the reduction of unemployment to comparatively small figures within the next ten years.
That, as Mr. Churchill has declared, is a ghastly prospect to face, since, besides the material effects of unemployment there is also to be taken into account
the moral agony which it produces. The Government attitude is that the provision of public works for the purpose of remedying unemployment has been tried out and has failed.
In support of this contention, it is pointed out that between 1924
and 1931, some seven hundred millions sterling was spent on various developments, but there had been, instead of a decrease,
an increase in unemployment.
The argument, however, is not convincing, since it may surely be submitted that if these works
have not stemmed unemployment, they have most probably mitigated it. At any rate, the American idea of putting the workless into jobs, and not merely paying them to remain idle,

is the obviously sensible way of dealing with this problem. It may not be possibly wholly to cure unemployment in this way,
but a very decided impression
can be made on the evil by action along these lines.

Chinese Education

Two independent reports have been made recently upon the Chinese educational system, one by a layman's commission from America sent to survey missionary work, and another by a commission of European educational experts appointed by the Council of the League of Nations. The American mission confined its studies largely to missionary schools, while the European experts surveyed only Chinese public schools. Both groups agreed that "Americanization" of Chinese schools, missionary and public, has gone too far. As a result, schools have been gradually separated from the indigenous life of the people. Reforms are urged which will connect the schools
more closely with the needs of the Chinese masses. The League Commissioners suggested that the Chinese are more likely to find models in Europe than in America upon which they may build an indigenous system of education.
"Because American civilization has developed in spite of a total absence of local traditions,
whereas European, like Chinese civilization must always take count of local traditions dating back thousands of years." The commission emphasized, however, that "no form of civilisation which has developed in different conditions, can become the cultural tradition of the China that is now entering upon an era of reform. New China must mobilise its forces, and from its own history, from its own literature, from all that is truly indigenous, extract the materials for a new civilisation,
that will be neither American nor European, but Chinese." The so-called "anti-foreign"
movement against missionary schools and the restlessness in Chinese public schools
may be explained in large part,
they believe, as a partially conscious protest against further
"foreignisation" of the Chinese educational system. Chinese educators heartily agree with League Commissioners that "public education in China will not attain the value of Western education until all signs of European and American influence have been eliminated, when there will be something really Chinese to compare with what is essentially American or European."

Women in Art

It is matter of more than merely local interest that during the last winter women in England have taken a much more active part in the art exhibitions
of the country than formerly.
The most interesting "one-man"
shows of the last few months have almost all been held by women, while women were responsible for the most striking pictures painted for the last exhibition of the Royal Academy. Women's entry into the field of art is the more significant because there has always existed a tendency to minimise the contribution that women in the past have made to the arts generally. One of the most successful plays, both from the artistic and the commercial points of view, now being presented in London is the work of a woman. This is not a fact that causes any surprise, for women have long asserted their dramatic skill. In fact, the whole theatrical activity of the western world originally began with the work of a woman, Hrots-witha, who wrote plays approximately a thousand years ago.
In prose literature the first woman's work that the Oxford anthology considers worthy of preservation dates back as far as 1373. In poetry it goes back to a contemporary of Milton's.
But now that they have achieved economic freedom, women's contribution to the cultural life of the world may be expected to be considerably richer and fuller
than it has even been before.

"TOUCH WOOD!"

A STUDY IN SUPERSTITION

By E. L. ALLEN.

'Yes,' remarked someone in my hearing, 'I have been in Hongkong for twenty years, and not so much as a day's illness all that time.' Then he turned round and half amused at what he was doing and half ashamed of it, touched the back of a chair. Why did he do that? Probably he himself could not have given a reason. The fact is that this practice goes so far back into the beginnings of the race that we have long since forgotten what it originally meant.

Some of us as children played a game called "touchwood." You were chased by your playmates,
but the moment you touched wood
you were safe, they had lost all right to pursue you any further.
When we touch wood in the middle of a remark we are making, it is for the same purpose; we want to secure ourselves against forces which are on our track and may do us serious harm. But why should it be just when we are congratulating ourselves on our good fortune
that we need to defend ourselves
against these hostile influences?
There, to be sure, is the crux of the matter. The whole thing is a survival from the mentality of primitive man and his fear of mysterious forces all about him.

The gods are jealous, and to draw their attention to our happiness is to risk having that happiness taken from us, to boast of it is to arouse their anger. Therefore we must take instant care to enlist on our side some counter-influence which will secure us against the possible consequences of our thoughtless words. So we touch wood!

THE RING OF POLYCRATES

The classic illustration of this superstition is the Greek story of the ring of Polycrates. Polycrates was ruler of Samos, and over a number of years he had met with uninterrupted good fortune. A friend to whom he boasted of this urged him to avert the certain anger of the gods by inflicting some loss on himself. Let him cast away something he valued greatly and he would no longer be too fortunate
for the gods to endure. Polycrates took the advice, and flung a costly ring into the sea. Next morning a fisherman arrived at the palace. He had caught a fish, and in its mouth was this ring which he hastened to return. The friend turned pale at the sight and fled
the court, knowing that the gods meant mischief and would not receive the sacrifice. Soon after, Polycrates was seized by the mainland by a Persian official, seized and crucified!

An incident in recent history is even more striking because of the personalities who figure in it. In November 1917 the Bolsheviks
overthrew the Provisional Government in Petrograd and seized the reins of power. News was brought to Lenin in his room in the Smolny Institute late at night, and he retired to bed but got to sleep. Trot-sky called next morning to congratulate him and found him an exhausted man. The sudden ascent from exile to absolute power was more than man could bear.
"It makes me dizzy," he said to Trotsky, and made the sign of the Cross before his face! Why did he do that? Under the strain of the previous night, he went back to the superstitions in which he was reared as a boy, and the action was an automatic one, without the consent of his more rational self.
He was too successful, and perhaps at that very moment some cruel Fate might be watching for the chance to strike him down!

IS MAN A RATIONAL ANIMAL?

It is said that man is a rational animal. The evidence, however,
would suggest a less optimistic conclusion. Man is as yet only struggling painfully out of the morass of superstition and beginning to feel the solid rock of reason underneath his feet. The fears and terrors of our primitive ancestors still occupy many a nook
and corner in the mind of civilized man. When we say of a favourable condition of things that it is "too good to last," we are back at this belief in a Nemesis which grudges us our little happinesses.
Even in this twentieth century and for some who have had a scientific education, the world appears to be full of malevolent powers waiting to pounce upon us because we walk under a ladder, or spill salt, or sit thirteen at a table! We are a long way yet from understanding that the Power which rules this world deals with mankind on one basis only, the simple one of right and wrong.

COLOUR IN LIFE

By John Recessh

Whether we care to admit it or not, the world rolls on to-day in a mental atmosphere of gloom and apprehension.

To intensify that we surround ourselves with greyness—it is the key-note of our lives. Our streets, churches, halls, houses, gasometers
—and, until recently, restaurants
—are still the incarnation of drab gloom. Now it is extremely difficult to be cheerful at all in depressing surroundings—it is impossible to be cheerful for long.

The truth of the matter is that we have been made afraid of colour.
From its earliest years a child should be encouraged to steer towards brightness. Not that a great deal of encouragement is required—what is wanted is to avoid directing youthful minds into this habit of accepting greyness as a normal background.

If you offer an infant the choice between a plain toy and a coloured one it will inevitably reach for the bright colours. It is our natural but unhappily suppressed tendency.

I have frequently been met with the criticism that bright colours
are all very well, but they are too
costly, not only in the initial stages,
but they show signs of wear and tear much more readily than the mouldy, beef-gravy abomination of desolation to which the average dejected eye has been too long accustomed. I have proved that this is not so, and it is difficult to comprehend why entering the average house in any town or city
should be like entering a tomb.
Such lugubrious taste is even more criminal in the country, where the affliction of dirt does not so prevail and light is all around you.

The day of florid pretensions
trappings being mercifully over,
simple furniture can be bought
to-day in plain wood at prices that are almost fantastically low.
Life is very largely what our mental outlook makes it, and it is sheer lunacy to continue to surround ourselves with this muggy atmosphere that reacts unconsciously yet none the less seriously
on our welfare.

PIRATES ESCAPE TO INTERIOR

NO TRACE OF OFFICERS FROM NANCHANG

Tokyo, Mar. 31. Reports from Newchwang state that Japanese and Manchukuo authorities are exerting themselves to the utmost to catch the kidnappers, but have been unsuccessful so far.

Investigations have revealed that the kidnappers landed with their captives on the Erhchikow coastline, 25 kilometres north-west of Newchwang, and fled inland in the direction of Ching-chikow.—Reuter.

Further Details.

Peking, Mar. 31. Further details of the piracy show that it took place at 11.45 p.m. when two innocent-looking junks were seen approaching. Eight men boarded the Nanchang, some of them being in uniform. Indiscriminate shooting which wounded two Chinese aboard was the first announcement of the character of the Nanchang's visitors who surprised four of the officers in the saloon before they could draw weapons.

The object of the raid was unquestionably to seize the foreigners. The pirates hastily looted the officers' cabins and made off with their number in two junks covering their descent from the steamer to the junks.—Reuter.

TO BE CHARGED AS SPIES

BRITISH ENGINEERS IN MOSCOW

New York, Mar. 31. Statements that the British engineers arrested in Moscow will be charged with espionage are the startling revelations in New York papers to-day.

A Moscow correspondent of the New York Herald Tribune declares that one of the chief charges to be against the arrested men will be one of espionage. The maximum penalty for this offence in Russia is death by shooting. It is also understood—from a high non-Soviet authority, it is stated—that Sir Esmond Ovey, British Ambassador in Moscow, will not return there after his pending trip to London.—Reuter.

CHINA'S POLITICS

SETTLING DOWN AFTER WANG'S RESIGNATION

Nanking, Mar. 31. The Nanking political situation settling down again with a general agreement having been reached by the Government over the various political items.

A special Executive Yuan meeting was held this morning under the presidency of Mr. Chiang-wei, who began to take office yesterday after the resignation of his sick leave. It is believed that the meeting was of particular significance, confined to administrative matters on which Mr. Wang felt he would need more complete information from the chiefs of the various government departments.—Reuter.

ARMY THAT CANNOT FORM FOURS

SEVERAL THREE OFFICERS AND THREE "OTHERS"

Jersey (vide school books) is an island. The island of Jersey (vide above) is noted for Lilies and Jersey (vide Mr. Duff Cooper's Financial Secretary to the Office) is also noted for an army.

Officers—3. Other ranks—3. Mr. Duff Cooper, asked in House of Commons to give the number of regular troops in Jersey, replied just that.

And what is more—in a burst of ignorance he told the House of Commons who—or rather what—officers were, viz., Lieutenant-governor, one; Staff Captains, two; and did not disclose the duties, ranks, of the "other ranks."

It is safe, however, to assume that any morning, from three different corners of the Jersey parade ground, and in three different tones, the command may be heard—"Other rank... sla-wope... Hips!"

An additional fee of $25 is to be made for the portable X-Ray apparatus when used outside Government hospitals.

The name of Dr. Ku Hsueh-chin, Bachelor of Medicine and Surgery of Hongkong University, has been added to the list of medical practitioners.

At approximately 11.30 p.m. to-day, an attempt will be made by ZBW to relay a running commentary on the Varsity Boat Race.

BORDERERS' SPORTS.

Prizes Presented by Mrs. G. T. Raikes.

SUCCESSFUL MEET.

The South Wales Borderers held a successful athletic sports meet at Sookunpo on Thursday and Friday. Yesterday a large gathering of military officers was present, including H.E. Major-Gen. O. C. Borrett and Mrs. Borrett, Sir Robert and Lady Ho Tung, Sir Shou-son Chow, Sir William Shenan, Mr. D. C. Wolfe and Mrs. Wolfe, Lt. Col. P. Raikes (O.C.S.W.B.) and Mrs. Raikes, Lt. Col. E. J. de la Haye, Col. R. B. Cousins, Col. A. H. K. Watson, Lt. Col. Hayles, Col. and Mrs. Lewis, Col. P. P. Neworthy, and Major H. B. L. Dowbiggin.

The events were keenly contested and close finishes were seen. "D" Company came first with 78 points and "C" Company followed with 65½.

At the conclusion of the sports, Mrs. Raikes presented the prizes. The band of the Lincolnshire Regiment was in attendance throughout the afternoon, under the baton of C. S. Trowl.

LOCAL TENNIS DEFECT

A lower division. Secondly it will allow the three divisions to be evenly constituted, with the A Division at last brought up to its proper numerical strength, and thirdly it will allow clubs with big memberships, such as the C.R.C., Indian R.C., and the S.C. A.A., to enter more teams in the league and provide regular competitive tennis for a larger number of members.

It seems pretty certain that the C.R.C. and South China Athletic Club will be entering an additional, or even two, extra teams this season, which is all to the good of tennis as well as to the clubs themselves.

Time will tell whether the new method of arranging the league matches in blocks on the roster system will work out beneficially. The chief problem obviously is one of weather. If an abnormally wet summer is experienced, the system may possibly be found to be impracticable, but given ordinary weather, there is no reason to doubt that it will be a big improvement on the old method of arranging set programmes for Wednesdays and Saturdays, and the inevitable "mutual arrangement" games which followed postponements, several of which never materialised.

Additional attraction to the project is lent in the fact that players will not be called upon to give up the whole of their Saturday afternoon for an hour and a half of tennis.

NEW BLOOD LIKELY.

On the whole I think the changes, though few and by no means revolutionary, will turn out to be progressive, and may encourage more advanced amendments in the future.

Certainly the prospects for the league season of 1933 are happy, for there is a distinct possibility that one or two new clubs will be found taking part.

I believe that both the Kowloon Dock Recreation Club and the Central British Association are joining the league, and they will help to fill some gaps which will more than likely be made. It is fairly certain that the Y.M.C.A., will not be competing this summer, owing to the difficulties of team raising.

BILLIARDS MATCHES.

Change of Venue Notified by Organisers.

AT THE CHINESE CLUB.

It has now been arranged for the exhibition billiards matches, which are to take place next week between Chinese and European exponents, to be staged at the Chinese Club in the Bank of Canton Building instead of at the Chung Sing Benevolent Society's premises as originally arranged.

As announced earlier the matches will be between A. J. Osmund and C/Sgt. Jarman and four Chinese players, Pong Shu-biu, E. D. Bush, Leung Poon-sun and Ip Ping-lau. The matches will commence at 7 p.m. on Monday, April 3, and on Tuesday, April 4, commencing at 7 p.m.

KEEPS HIS WORD.

ASSASSIN OF WARLORD GOES TO FRONT

Peking, Mar. 31. True to his word made at the time of his release, Cheng Chi-cheng, assassin of General Chang Chung-chang, former Shantung warlord, was recently pardoned by the Government, suddenly appeared here to-day from Tsinan.

Cheng immediately called on General Ho Ying-ching, Chairman of the Peking Military Council and offered to enlist and fight against the Japanese. It is learned that his offer has been accepted and that he is proceeding to the front shortly.

Cheng Chi-cheng shot the Shantung militiaman at the Tsinan railway station when the latter was leaving for Peking.—Reuter.

A cold draught

is sufficient to bring on a serious attack of bronchial catarrh. The resulting cough is a trouble in your social engagements. In addition, it robs you of sleep and makes you dull and unfit for work.

Don't waste time in trying this, that or the other remedy—bronchial catarrh easily becomes chronic—but take CRESIVAL at once! It loosens the phlegm, allays the cough and gets rid of the catarrh certainly and quickly.

CRESIVAL has a pleasant taste, and is therefore readily taken even by children.

When buying, see that you get the original package with the BAYER CROSS.

'CRESIVAL'

This is why Chivers' Jellies are so good

Enormous quantities of selected un-ripened fruits are used in the making of Chivers' Jellies. These juices are added to the gelatin which, of course, are made in silver lined pans...and then set in tablet form. You simply add hot water...

PLANE CRASH

LOCAL PILOT KILLED INSTANTLY

Ronald John Stevens, 27 years old test pilot of the Far East Aviation Company, was killed in an aeroplane crash at Liuchow, Kwangsi, on Thursday.

No details of the accident were available last night but it was learned that Mr. Stevens was killed instantly.

A tragic feature of the accident is that Mr. Stevens was married only six months ago, to Miss Ellen de Biere, of Hongkong.

When interviewed last night, Mr. A. V. Harvey, local manager of the Far Eastern Aviation Company said that Mr. Stevens was a sound pilot with nearly nine years of flying experience.

Born at Moseley, Birmingham, Mr. Stevens entered the Royal Air Force and served for some time as Flying Officer with the 58th Night Bombing Squadron. He joined the Indian Army and came to Hongkong as a Lieutenant in the 1st Regiment.

In April, 1932, he resigned his commission in the Army and joined the Far East Aviation Company as test pilot.

Most of Mr. Stevens work has been in connexion with the sale of aeroplanes to the Kwangsi Air Force, and in addition to his post as the test pilot, was also Aviation Adviser to the Kwangsi Provincial Government.

High Reputation.

In the short time he was in the service of the Far East Aviation Company, Mr. Stevens gained a reputation for safe flying, and several excellent flights stand to his credit.

In July last year, following an aerial smash at Nanning he brought the badly injured pilot to Hongkong in the amphibian plane, Cutty Sark. The injured man received attention in the Kowloon Hospital and recovered.

On March 12, Mr. Stevens flew to Liuchow to deliver a machine to the Kwangsi Air Force and had been engaged there since.

Bad weather conditions between here and Liuchow prevented Mr. Harvey from flying to the scene of the accident yesterday, but weather permitting, he will attempt the flight this morning.

A British engineer is stationed at Liuchow to supervise the maintenance of machines and it seems fairly certain that the accident was not due to a mechanical fault. Full inquiries will be made by Mr. Harvey on his arrival in Liuchow.

The late Mr. Stevens was the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Stevens of Moseley, Birmingham, England.

P.I. TRADE MISSION.

TEA PARTY GIVEN BY THE CHINESE CHAMBER

The Philippines Legislative Trade Mission, headed by Messrs. Juan Luna, G. Nieva and M. T. Boncan (members of the Philippines Legislative Council) were the honoured guests at a tea party given yesterday afternoon at the Chinese General Chamber of Commerce. There was a big gathering of the Chamber's members, including the chairman, Mr. Wong Kwang-in and the Hon. Mr. S. W. Tao.

In a speech of welcome Mr. Wong Kwang-in said:

It is my special privilege this afternoon, on behalf of the Hongkong Chinese Chamber of Commerce, to extend a very hearty welcome to the members of the Legislative Trade Commission from the Philippines. We have also as our guest Mr. Chu Fung-shing of the Foreign Office of Nanking.

I am sure we all envy the Philippines for being able to produce such a Commission, consisting of sons who could worthily represent their motherland, in every matter pertaining to Law, Banking, Administration, Public Finance, Mining, Forestry, Railroads and Public Works.

We are indeed honoured to have them with us, and they may rest assured that we shall do our best to render their stay here both pleasant and informative. Our only regret is that their sojourn here is so short. Perhaps Hongkong will be able to produce a similar Commission in the near future, and return the visit.

There is, I notice, a large number of ladies travelling with the Commission, and it does appear that in going after trade, our friends are not neglecting the possibility of cultural relations with the countries they visit.

A great future lies in store for the Philippines. We wish our guests continued progress and prosperity. (Applause).

Mr. Luna's Reply.

After thanking the Chinese Chamber of Commerce for their entertainment on behalf of the Trade Mission, Mr. Juan Luna said that Philippine traders were seeking closer co-operation with commercial interests in China and Japan. He mentioned the fact that Chinese traders were amongst the pioneers of trade in the Philippine Islands. During their stay in China, added the speaker, the Mission would find out what China needed which the Philippines Islands could supply, and what Chinese products would find a ready market in the Philippines. Both Mr. Nieva and Mr. Chu Fung-

EMBEZZLEMENT CASE.

CHARGE DISMISSED ON COMPLAINANT'S ABSENCE

Before Mr. Butters at the Kowloon Magistracy yesterday afternoon, the case was discharged of a summons of embezzlement against Fung Yat-ting, described as a clerk in the Kien Tung Yik Co. 43, Apliu Street, from whom it was alleged, the defendant fraudulently obtained $11,100.

Mr. T. P. K. Kemble, who appeared for the prosecution, informed the Magistrate that the complainant, Chan Sui-cheung, was not present and had not issued any further instructions.

Mr. Butters, in discharging the case, said that in the last hearing, there had been no evidence of embezzlement and only a possibility of larceny. He thought that the matter was more of a civil than a criminal nature.

It will be remembered that at the last hearing the complainant, Chan Sui-cheung, managing partner of the Kien Tung Yik Co., gave evidence that defendant, as one of the firm's partners, had paid in money amounting to $11,100, on which interest was being paid. The firm in March had received two cheques from Sir Robert Ho-tung's agent, the total sum amounting to $11,100, which the partners had cashed, defendant receiving the money and being instructed to send it to various offices the next day. Witness had not seen defendant after that day.

Mr. G. K. Hall Brutton, acting for the defendant, cross-examined witness, who admitted that he and the third partner of the firm had borrowed $5,000 from defendant in order to carry on Sir Robert Ho-tung's contract. Witness denied having heard from defendant's wife that her husband had been sent to hospital soon after cashing the cheques.

Shiang also spoke briefly. Among those present were Messrs. J. E. Romero and B. F. Lopez (Secretaries of the Trade Mission) and many of the Chamber's prominent members including Messrs. Lo Shut-no, Li Tze-fong, Ma Man-fai, Wong Ping-shun, Kwok Chuen, R. C. H. Lim, Tai Tak-fu, Li Hoi-tung, Ip Lan-chuen, H. Hong Shing, and others.

THE WHOLE WORLD

HAS WELCOMED IT!

The Standard "Little Nine" is something more than just a very popular motor car. It is a necessity. A necessity to the very many motorists who want a full-sized car of ample power, of roomy comfort, of unfailing reliability, and of reasonable luxury. All these things, and more, are provided by the Standard "Little Nine" at a price and running costs far below any car of the "Little Nine's" capabilities. No wonder the whole world has welcomed it! And the 1933 Standard "Little Nine"? Even smarter in appearance! Even smoother in performance! Even more completely equipped! The 1933 Standard "Little Nine" is streamlined for beauty and easy cleaning... fitted with a four-speed silent third gearbox, and longer, more luxurious road springs... equipped with 12-volt lighting and starting set, grouped-nipple chassis lubrication, petrol pump, electric petrol gauge and 8-day clock on dash, hydraulic shock absorbers front and rear, larger headlamps, etc., etc. What a car—for $2,850! What a firm—for enterprise!

"LITTLE NINE"

CHURCH CONCERT.

BY PUPILS OF KOWLOON SUNDAY SCHOOL

A most enjoyable time was spent in the Kowloon Union Church Hall last night, Dr. E. L. Allen presiding, when the first Parents' Evening was celebrated. The Superintendent and teachers of the Sunday School were the hosts; while the scholars contributed vocal, piano-forte and violin solos to a highly successful programme. Highland and Irish dances figured prominently, while recitations also were well received.

Mrs. J. S. Logan, representing the primary department sweetly rendered, nursery rhymes. The proceedings opened with a hymn, after which a prayer was offered by Dr. Allen.

Reports Read.

In the course of the entertainment, Mr. A. W. Ingram extended a hearty welcome to all present, while methods of the working of the intermediate, junior and primary departments of the Sunday School were dealt with by Mr. McFayden, Mrs. E. W. Niblett and Mrs. Ingram, respectively.

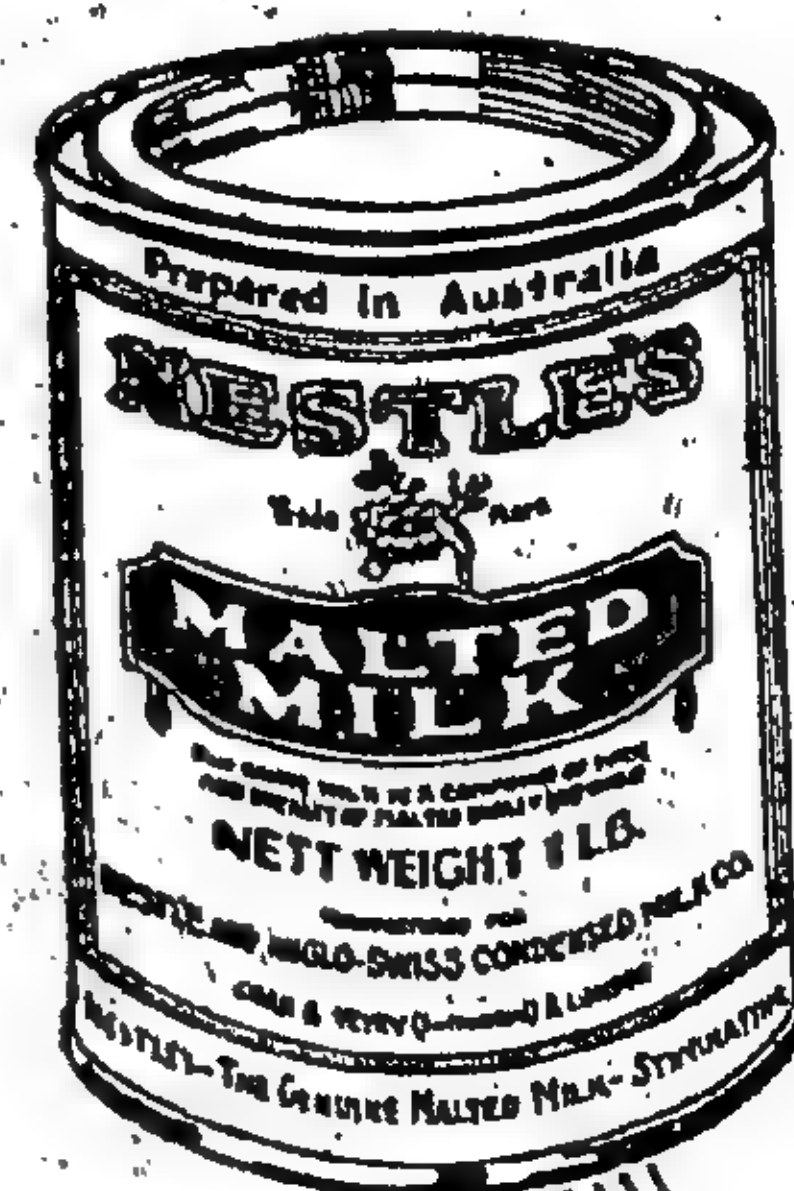

At the conclusion, Dr. Allen, prior to pronouncing the benediction thanked all parents for their presence, and appealed for their continued support. He thanked the performers and the teachers who had put in much hard work. He emphasised the importance of co-operation between the Sunday School and the home.

The following contributed to the success of the entertainment—Helen Taylor, Sheena Taylor, Stella Wicker, Hazel Millington, Joan McFayden, Jean Nelson, Stella Wicker, Peggy Ferguson, Joan McFayden, Hazel Millington, Mrs. J. S. Logan, Ronnie Sellwood, Margaret McFayden, Margaret Mackie, Robert Provan, Jean Gray and Johann Holland.

MR. R. E. LINDSELL ON LOCAL TENNIS DEFECT

NEED FOR IMPROVED
SERVICEENCOURAGING ADVICE
TO YOUNG PLAYERS

LEAGUE MATTERS

NEW RELEGATION AND PROMOTION SYSTEM

(By "VERITAS".)

MR. R. E. Lindsell, President of the Hongkong Lawn Tennis Association, struck something of a new and welcome note in his address to club delegates at the annual meeting yesterday, when he stressed the necessity for improving the standard of the local game by players concentrating on one or two principles.

It was an appeal to the young players not to be discouraged by the absolute ascendancy of such exponents as the Rumjahn cousins and other leading Hongkong tennis luminaries.

He advised them firstly to take every opportunity of studying players such as the Japanese Davis Cup team and other experts when they appeared on local courts. By so doing they would find much to learn in the way of correct footwork and stroke production.

This is very sound advice, and coming from one who, a few years ago, was a by no means inferior wielder of the racket, and who enjoys years of experience with the game and its associates, is worthy of acceptance by these younger players who are keenly endeavouring to improve their game.

SERVICE WEAKNESS.

Mr. Lindsell too, emphasised a weakness in Hongkong tennis which I have more than once aired, namely the deplorable lack of a winning service stroke.

As the L.T.A. President rightly pointed out, in first class tennis, it is worthy of press and general comment when a service has been broken through, whereas in Hongkong, such is the careless attention paid to this stroke, that the reverse is very often the case.

A timely illustration of the point was the continual losing of service by Fincher in the doubles final. Rumjahn's persistent double faults indicate carelessness and lack of appreciation of the service as a weapon of attack.

In his case, as well as in others, this is made remarkable in so far that so many local players attempt a volleying campaign by which to win their matches; yet without a powerful and consistent service, such methods would, against rather better class players, be completely discounted and set at naught.

If one requires further proof that there does exist among local players a poor standard of service, it is found in Mr. E.D. Andrews' comments on Hongkong tennis, when he specifically quoted the service as being the outstanding, and only real, weakness in the stroke equipment of our best exponents.

LEAGUE SYSTEM CHANGES.

The meeting yesterday expressed itself diffident in accepting any revolutionary change or modification in the methods of conducting the tennis league this summer, and the attitude was not without some good and valid reasons.

An endeavour to alter the system of play in that nominate the pairs meet each other instead of the already established form of "American tournament", together with the suggestion that a different allocation of league points be introduced, was negatived.

But I was gratified to see the meeting support Mr. Armstrong's proposal for the introduction of the promotion and relegation system. It is an idea which has been behind the minds of several enthusiasts, and was, in 1931, actually brought before the annual meeting of the Association, but was then rejected.

But as the mover yesterday pointed out, there was absolutely no reason why such a system, which was in force in English football, should not be applied to the Hongkong Tennis League.

THREE-FOLD ADVANTAGES.

Its advantages are three-fold. In the first place it stimulates interest not only in the championship, but in the question of relegation to the League.

Y.M.C.A. SWIMMING IN FLOURISHING CONDITION

AMBITIOUS PROGRAMME FOR APPROACHING SEASONTHREE WATER POLO TEAMS AND MONTHLY GALAS

The Y.M.C.A. swimming club, which last year, thanks to its energetic officers and the unbounded enthusiasm of its members, lifted itself to a place of prominence in local swimming circles, held its annual meeting yesterday, when another ambitious programme for the approaching season was outlined.

This will include:

Entry of two teams in the Hongkong Water Polo League

A swimming gala and dance once a month throughout the summer in the "Y" bath

Running three water polo teams

An extensive programme of private competitions including Y.M.C.A. swimming and diving championships, and a continuance of the aggregate points event which proved such a success and a stimulant for the novices last year.

Mr. E. F. Selk presided at the annual meeting yesterday, held in the West Lounge, when the Hon. Treasurer reported a balance in hand of $108.71, and Mr. E. Railton, the Hon. Secretary referred to last season's successes, including the inter-club meetings between the Y.M.C.A. and Shamshin.

THE OFFICERS.

The following officers and committee were elected: Mr. E. F. Selk (Chairman), Mr. E. Railton (Hon. Secretary), Mr. A. Donn (Hon. Treasurer), and Messrs. J. Schreider, W. Kerr, W. Campbell, R. Goldman and D. Harvey (Committee).

It was decided to affiliate to the new Hongkong Swimming Association, and to enter two teams in the water polo league. A third team would also be run to play friendlies and to assist in training the novices.

In order to assist in water polo matches, the water at the shallow end of the Y.M.C.A. bath will be raised and the difficulty of swimming in this end, experienced last year, will not recur.

The Club will open its season on April 7, when life saving classes will start, and the first gala and dance will be held early in May.

The Y.M.C.A. swimmers are looking forward to a season even more successful than last year, when they demonstrated very clearly they can turn out water polo teams well capable of competing with the best in the Colony.

K.C.C. TRUNDLER
LEAVINGFAREWELL MATCH TO
J. C. LYAL

Special significance attaches to the week-end cricket match between the Kowloon Cricket Club and the H.K.C.C.

It takes the form of a farewell game to J. C. Lyal, former captain of the K.C.C., and one of the club's leading bowlers.

Lyal is leaving the Colony for good, and his club mates and colleagues are taking this opportunity of expressing their appreciation and regard.

Tom

Takes K.O.NEW ZEALAND
"HEAVY" SURPRISED

New York, March 27. Stanley Porada, starting a combi after being knocked out by the late Schaaf a few months ago, kayoed Tom Heeney, New Zealand "hard rock," in the tenth round of a bout here tonight. He weighed 208½ to all for the veteran scrapper from "down under."

Until he was badly beaten by Schaaf in a return engagement, the Newark youngster was well up in front among the heavyweight challengers, and the sports writers ahead of Schaaf, Steve Hamas and even Max Baer of California.

A Pole, he is 24 years old and has to his credit victories over Schaaf, and Johnny Risko, rubbery heavyweight trial horse, as well as Heeney, among many others.

A black mark against him as well as the loss to Schaaf in their second meeting was the "knock-out" he sustained at the hands of Salvatore Ruggirello, Italian.

He has beaten Tommy Loughran, giving him a one-sided whipping last Oct. 17, and Primo Carnera, and Carnera now is scheduled to meet Jack Sharkey in a championship match next summer.

ANOTHER CAPTURE

Alex Jackson, the famous Scottish outside-right, formerly of Chelsea, is to play for Margate for the rest of the season. He turned out against Folkestone in a Kent League Cup tie and helped his team into the semi-final.

He will be paid £10 a week and expenses.

"I am fairly fit now," said Jackson, "and I hope to be back in form after two or three matches, although I have not touched a ball for several weeks."

"I had almost given up the idea of playing again this season when the offer arrived from the secretary of the Margate club."

"I shall still live in London and carry on my business."

After leaving Chelsea last season Jackson played for the Ashton National F.C. in the Cheshire League. That engagement was terminated by mutual consent.

HOW MIGRATION STARTED.

The system of introducing famous professional football "stars" to Kent county league soccer was started by Maidstone about six years ago, when Sir Herbert Edward Sharp, then chairman of directors of the Maidstone Football Club, signed on James McMullan and other Scottish internationals.

In response the Tunbridge Wells Rangers brought in Tim Coleman, the old Arsenal wing, and last year the same club engaged Charles Spencer the Manchester City and English international player.

Jackson has joined Margate at a time when they are going strong for three trophies—the Kent R.A.O.C. German Club, 17 2 1 14 10 54 6 24th. Battery, 15 1 2 12 13 40 4 20th. Battery, 14 1 1 12 4 32 3 Cup.

NEXT WEEKCAROLINE HILL
MATCH

EXPERT Manila basketball and baseball exponents are to be seen in action in Hongkong next week, when the well-known Santo Tomas team, runners-up in the Open Baseball League of Manila visit the Colony.

They arrive on Wednesday next, and, according to tentative arrangements already put in hand, will meet a team from the U.S.S. Fulton at baseball.

The match will be played at Caroline Hill and promises to provide an unusual attraction for local fans.

The basketball players will have a muscle stretcher against the Chinese Y.M.C.A., and as the locals can put a strong side on the court, something out of the ordinary is assured.

The visitors will be here about 36 hours, leaving again by the Empress of Russia on Friday April 7 at noon.

ARMY AMATEUR
BOXERSLOCAL INTER-UNIT
TOURNAMENTSTO BE HELD IN FEW DAYS TIME

The last month of the present Boxing Season promises to be a busy period for Army Amateurs, as the under-mentioned competitions are due to be fought:—

Inter-Unit Novices Competition.
Inter-Unit Competition.
Area Individual Championships.

Owing to the lack of suitable halls it has been decided to hold these tournaments at the open air ring situated at Murray Barracks, Garden Road, (near Peak Tramway Terminus), and the finals of the Inter-Unit and the Inter-Unit Novices competitions, in which teams representing the 1st Bn. The Lincolnshire Regiment, and 1st Bn. The South Wales Borderers, are engaged, will be fought on Wednesday, April 12, the first bout commencing at 7.45 p.m.

Teams are constituted as follows:—

One Light Heavy; One Middle; Two Welter; Two Light; One Feather and one Bantam weight.

Each bout is of 3 rounds—there will be, therefore, 16 bouts of 3 rounds each, 48 rounds of real Amateur Boxing.

MAMAK HOCKEY.

H.M.S. Parthian Defeat
University.

A close struggle was seen at Caroline Hill yesterday, when the University tried conclusions with H.M.S. Parthian and went under by the odd goal in three.

The match was keenly contested, and a fast pace was set from the start.

Both teams were about equally matched, and consequently both goals were visited in turn. The first half saw each side not once, but the naval team obtained the deciding goal in the latter stages of the second half.

A. A. Aziz netted for the undergraduates, and Price and Marchant scored for the Parthian.

CINEMA SCREENINGS.

NOTES SUPPLIED BY THE THEATRES.

As presented by First National, "Five Star Final" to be shown at the Queen's Theatre to-morrow, is a masterly film, unmatched by any dramatic attempt since the advent of the talkies. Picturized from the play of the same title by Louis Weitzenkorn, it has been directed by Mervyn Le Roy with a tremendous force and directness. In his hands, the story becomes an even more stirring and powerful document than was the original play. That is saying a great deal, for the Weitzenkorn drama was an outstanding hit of last season on Broadway and has remained a subject for lively comment and discussion. First National has assembled a list of names for this production which, on Broadway, would be termed the all-star cast of seasons. In addition to Edward G. Robinson's remarkable performance as Randall, managing editor of the tabloid there are fine jobs by H. B. Warner, Marian Marsh, Frances Starr, Ona Munson, Aline MacMahon, George E. Stone, Anthony Bushell, Robert Elliott and others.

"Toss of the Storm Country"

With all the reason in the world, to let success go to his head, Charles Farrell is one actor who still maintains the simplicity that was his when he first came to Hollywood eight years ago with eighteen dollars in his pocket and an inconquerable ambition in his heart to see his name in electric lights on a theatre marquee. Fame, praise and unlimited adulation have been heaped upon him ever since the day when "7th Heaven" burst forth on an unsuspecting world, but he continued to ride a battered, second-hand flivver even if he does ride it more up-to-date brother now, generally leaving his big cars in the garage. Success has matured him a bit, but it hasn't spoiled him at all. His latest appearance, as his tenth starring role opposite Janet Gaynor, is in "Toss of the Storm Country," which is now showing at the King's Theatre. Said to be the most dramatic of all the Gaynor-Farrell vehicles, "Toss" deals with the stormy romance between a sea-captain's daughter and a millionaire's son on the Maine coast. Alfred Santal directed the picture for Fox Films and the supporting cast includes Dudley Digges, June Clyde, George Meeker, Claude Gillingwater, Edward Pawley and Matty Kemp.

"Fast Life"

A real honest-to-goodness motion picture roars across the Queen's Theatre screen at present, "Fast Life," the motorboat racing thriller featuring William Haines, putting audiences on the edge of their seats with its breathtaking punch. Not since the advent of talking pictures has there been a screen production to equal the speed with which this feature moves. The "tempo" in every scene has evidently been gauged to maintain the atmosphere of racing from the dialogue and action of the players to even the atmospheric backgrounds. William Haines, as Sandy, the young motorboat mechanic who is forced into a career of piracy to finance his new engine for the international races, stays strictly in character through the picture with a new restrained quality of performance that shows his genuine acting ability. Right with Haines, so far as acting honours are concerned, comes Cliff Edwards in his part as Bumpy, the comedy assistant. Madge Evans is charming as the leading lady and provides an ideal romantic partner for Haines. Conrad Nagel portrays a "heavy" role with convincing realism that shows his ability to vary his work from the "nice gentleman" type of role he has appeared in previously.

"Madison Square Garden"

A group of America's most famous sports writers make their movie debuts as members of the cast of "Madison Square Garden," rapid-moving drama set against the kaleidoscopic background of New York's famed centre of social, political and athletic life, which comes to the King's Theatre next Thursday. Leading roles in the film, which like "Union Depot," and other one-location pictures, deals with the lives of the various people who meet under its roof, are played by Jack Oakie, Thomas Meighan, Marian Nixon, Warren Hymer, William Collier, Sr., William Body, and Zasu Pitts.

FATHER GIVES HIS EVIDENCE.

CHINESE TEACHER'S DEATH INVESTIGATED

Yeung Pak-ki, father of the deceased, a woman school teacher who was killed in a motor accident in Jubilee Road on March 11 last, gave evidence at the resumed hearing of the inquest before Mr. Schofield, and a Coroner's jury, at the Central Magistracy yesterday afternoon. He stated he sometimes reproved his daughters for going out too frequently for car rides, and advised them not to go.

Mr. Hin-shing Lo is appearing in the interests of Kwok Hung-ki, the alleged driver of the car, who is at present awaiting trial on two charges alleging the theft by bailor of a car from a Chinese building contractor, and obtaining $1,000 by a forged cheque at the American Express Company.

Mr. R. A. Wade is holding a watching brief on behalf of Mr. Li Yee, the owner of the car involved in the smash.

The jury empanelled comprised Messrs. C. F. Andrews (foreman), Wong Ping-kwan, and Tsai Nai-shing.

Father's Evidence.

In evidence, Yeung Pak-ki said he was the managing proprietor of the Ki Hing Knitting Factory, 1, Antung Street, and had eight daughters and one son. The deceased was not engaged to be married, nor was the second daughter. He had not seen Kwok Hung-ki, but his wife had mentioned his name before the day of the accident. The last time he saw his two daughters before the accident occurred, was at 10 a.m. but they did not say where they were going. At 5 p.m., when he arrived at the Government Civil Hospital, his eldest daughter was dead already. Witness knew she had some male friends at the Fiat Garage.

Li Yee, the owner of the wrecked car, said he was the master of the Shing Tak Foreign Goods shop, 62, Stanley Street. He bought the car three months ago for $3,000, and had it insured with the Union Insurance Society for the same amount. Kwok was a salesman at the Fiat Garage and he regarded him as an experienced driver. At 10.30 a.m. on March 11, the day of the mishap, Kwok came to Stanley Street and asked to borrow the car as two girl friends wished to be taken for a drive. At first witness refused.

Car Loaned Before.

The Coroner: Why?—Because I did not want to lend the car to other people to drive so often. I have lent the car to friends and once before to Kwok, about a month before the accident.

Continuing, witness said Kwok produced the key from his (Kwok's) pocket and started the car. Witness finally decided to let him go. He knew the two girls, but Kwok knew them better, and appeared to be fonder of the younger sister. When he lent the car he told Kwok to return it by noon and he agreed.

The next witness called was Kwok Chee-sut, a colleague of Kwok Hung-ki. He stated that Kwok formerly lived at Hennessy Road but went to Macao ten days before the mishap. He gave no reason for doing so. Witness knew the deceased girl and her sister.

After further evidence had been taken, the hearing was further adjourned.

CONTRACT BRIDGE

By W. E. McKenney

There is no question but that it is absolutely necessary to know how to bid the hands correctly at contract, but I am afraid that too many people are forgetting that the play of the hand is equally important.

I was rather shocked lately to notice the number of people who do not know how to employ the hold-up at no trump. It is one of the first and most important plays every bridge player should know. This and the next two articles will be devoted to explaining this particular play.

The Bidding

South, having no weak suit and a tenace position in three suits, should open the contracting with one no trump. West will pass.

North has a five-card suit and a side ace and king. However, I would not show this club suit in this case, as I believe it better for North to jump right into three no trump, which shows strength but conceals the long suit.

When you hold a suit as strong as this after partner's original no trump you may be practically certain that it is partner's weak suit and if you bid it, he will again bid no trump. By concealing the suit you will find that your opponents will occasionally open that particular suit.

The Play

West should attack the no trump with his longest and strongest suit, which is diamonds, and his proper lead is the fourth best—the five.

Declarer will play the nine from dummy, East the queen and now what shall the declarer play? The king? Absolutely not.

Before playing to the trick he should count up his tricks. He has nine clubs in the two hands and if he is fortunate may not lose a club trick. However, he should not count more than four club tricks to start. He also has three sure heart tricks, a diamond trick and a spade—nine in all.

It would be correct to take the queen of diamonds with the king if you were absolutely certain that if the club suit did not break, West would not have the long club. However, you should

NAZIS KILL JEW

PROMINENT LAWYER DIES IN BERLIN

Berlin, Mar. 31. Nazi persecution is alleged as responsible for the death of a prominent German Jew, Joachim, who died to-day in hospital after a week's illness.

Reuter declares, from personal knowledge and without fear of contradiction, that the cause of his death was a terrible beating received by Joachim at the hands of the Nazi storm troops a week ago.

Joachim, who was a prominent Jewish Socialist lawyer, frequently acted professionally to members of the Socialist Party and Reichsbanner organisation.—Reuter.

Law Courts Cleared

Berlin, Mar. 31. Nazi Stormtroopers at noon to-day cleared the Berlin law courts of Jewish Judges and Attorneys, including the Chief Justice, Kurt Soelling.—Reuter.

not jeopardize your contract with a careless play, but should employ the hold-up.

The declarer wishes to exhaust his right-hand opponent of diamonds in case the club suit does not break. If he were to play the king of diamonds, on this trick, and then try to break the club, East would win the third club trick, return the seven of diamonds, and West would run off four diamond tricks, which would defeat the contract.

In employing the hold-up, South will play the three of diamonds. When East returns the seven of diamonds, declarer will play the jack, West will win with the ace and return another diamond, which declarer will win with the king.

Declarer can now lead a small club and win with the ace in dummy, returning the king of clubs. East will play the jack, and West will discard a heart.

The third club is now led from dummy and when East wins with the queen he has no diamond to return. His natural return is a spade up to dummy's weakness.

Declarer must not take the finesse but should go right up with his ace. He should then lead a small club over to dummy and cash his other good club, discarding a low spade.

He can then win three heart tricks and must grant his opponents a spade trick. By employing the hold-up he has made his contract of three no trump.

A DRAMA OF PRISON CHAIN GANGS
THAT WILL AMAZE YOU!

The clank of leg irons—the swish of the snake whip—the crack of rifle shots aimed at men with targets on their backs!

CAN THIS BE AMERICA?

Shameless, brutal and TRUE is the story of the chain gangs, where nameless men hack at mountains in the blistering sun.

Thrilling and glorious the story of the one man in the gang whose spirit would not crumble... who rose in mighty strength because a woman waited!

Here's drama big as life itself... drama to send the blood pounding through your veins and set flame your deepest emotions.

FERRY PIERS

NEW REGULATIONS MADE

The following regulations have been made in respect of Government Ferry Piers at Connaught Road Central, Pei Ho Street (Shamshui), Shan Tung Street (Mongkoktsui) and Jordan Road (Kowloon):

No person shall climb over or attempt to climb over any barrier, or enter or attempt to enter or leave any waiting area except by the proper entrances and exits.

No person shall do or attempt to do any act or thing causing or calculated to cause damage or injury to the offices, barriers, gates, roofing, superstructure, fittings, furniture or appliances of or belonging to any of the Piers above named.

No person shall use or fix any additional fendering on the face of any of the said piers, or use improperly or interfere with any machinery, appliance or apparatus provided upon or for any of the said piers.

No person shall bring alongside any of the said piers any craft in such a manner as to ram or damage the same or any portion of the superstructure thereof.

No person shall make use of any part of any of the said piers or the superstructure thereof for warping or tying-up alongside, except the bollards and ring bolts provided for such purposes.

No person shall cause or allow any craft to lie alongside any of the said piers except for the purpose of embarking or disembarking the ferry traffic.

PHILIPPINES MISSION

VISIT TO LOCAL SHIPYARD

The Legislative Trade Commission of the Philippines, which arrived in Hongkong yesterday by the President Taft, visited the General Office of Messrs. Brandt & Co., Ltd., exporters-importers and General Managers of the South China Motorship Building & Repairing Works, Ltd.

The Commission was escorted to the South China Motorship Building Yard and thoroughly inspected the yards and other buildings. Among those present were Messrs. Joseph A. Gutierrez (Secretary, Brandt & Co. Ltd.), J. E. Romero, Secretary of the Trade Mission; M. T. Boncan, Chairman, Legislative Trade Commission; Capt. G. L. Brandt, Permanent Managing Director Brandt & Co. Ltd., General Manager of South China Motor Shipyard; Juan Luna, Member of the House of Representatives, Manila; B. F. Lopez, Secretary of the Trade Commission.

The visit terminated by a reception at the residence of Capt. Brandt after which the party proceeded to the Chinese General Chamber of Commerce where another reception was cordially held for them. A photograph taken at the shipyard during the visit will appear in next week's Pictorial Supplement.

It is notified that the Canton and Land Investment Co. will within three months, unless cause is shown to the contrary, be struck off the register and the Company dissolved.

ROME AGREEMENT

ARTICLES PUBLISHED BY PARIS NEWSPAPERS

Paris, Mar. 31.
What purports to be the text of the MacDonald-Mussolini agreement reached at Rome a fortnight ago is published in this morning's papers. It contains six articles, as follows:

1.—Germany, France, Italy and Britain will undertake to evolve an effective policy of co-operation with a view to the maintenance of peace.

2.—They confirm the principle of the revision of peace treaties which must occur within the framework of the League of Nations.

3.—France, Britain and Italy declare that in the event of disarmament being only partial, equality rights for Germany shall have an effective meaning, while Germany undertakes to realise equality by stages in agreement with the others. Similar agreements will be reached with regard to Austria, Hungary and Bulgaria.

4.—As far as possible, a common line will be adopted on all European and extra-European political and non-political questions, including the colonial sphere.

5.—The duration of the Pact will be for 10 years.

6.—The Pact will be filed with the League.—Reuter.

ROUND THE WORLD JUNE
UNDERGOES REPAIRS

Another of the exigencies of sea
roving is being experienced by Mr.
Blomfield, owner of the Shi Di Ting Shi, round-the-world junk. The translation of the vessel's name is
"New Horizons" but so far the junk
has not experienced a very varied horizon, for after an adventurous trip from Shanghai she arrived in Hongkong for refit on March 13.

Mr. Blomfield has found after his experiences on the China coast that the vessel has to undergo extensive refit, entailing alterations to the gear
and equipment before he can leave for Guam or the Philippine Islands.
The junk is at present at the Taikoo dock and if alterations proceed at a reasonable rate of speed she should be ready to brave the waters of any ocean next week.
Mr. Blomfield has decided he will take an addition to his crew, and he is at present on the look-out for a recruit who is sufficiently experienced in seamanship to be of real assistance to him in piloting the junk around
the world.
